At hearing tonight

Citizens present city bond plan

City officials and citizens groups at 7:30 tonight (Wednesday) at the City Hall collectively will put their heads together in an effort to determine the projects to be contained in the city's six-year capital improvement program.

The public hearing tonight will be the first of a series of sessions this month pertaining to the city's budget for the next fiscal year affecting both the operation and capital improvement phases.

But tonight's meeting will be confined only to the capital improvement side.

CITIZENS REPORT

It will be highlighted by the recommendation submitted by the Citizens Advisory Committee which calls for a $3,113,000 bond issue next October to be financed by a 40-cent tax and includes eight different improvement projects.

Don Hebard, general chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee, will explain the citizens recommendation at the hearing tonight which is expected to be attended not only by the City Council but also by members of the Planning Commission and Parks and Recreation Commission.

The meeting is open to the public, as are all budget sessions conducted by the council.

On Monday of this week the Citizens Advisory Committee submitted a written report to the city administration and it is this report that Hebard and his fellow committee members will discuss with the city officials.

PROJECTS

The recommendation of the citizens, made after six weeks of intensive study of the proposed capital improvement program that was adopted by the City Council and Planning Commission, lists the following eight projects selected by a majority vote of the

HAVE A BALL--Ernie Nevers, the all-time gridiron great of Stanford and professional football fame, will headline the Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon on Thursday, June 22, at Villa Felice.

But Nevers will not talk about football. His subject will be "Why am I in soccer now"?, embellished with a 15-minute film about the California (Oakland) Clippers. Nevers now has an executive position with the "Clippers", the bay area's entry in the newly-formed National Professional Soccer League.

A sell-out is expected for the luncheon so members are advised to make reservations early at 378-6252.

School board gets report on San Tomas

Trustees of the Campbell Union (elemtary) District will go into executive session at the board meeting this evening (Wednesday) to hear the report of a teachers' group who have investigated charges made by parent groups about teacher-principal relations in the system.

The investigation was made by the professional relations and responsibility committee of the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association, an affiliate of the CTA, the state organization.

The investigation stemmed from charges of some parents in the San Tomas School area that the school lacked harmony in its operation and that teachers were being transferred because of this condition that existed.

The trustees agreed to allow the teachers' organization to check on the situation at a recent board meeting attended by an overflow crowd of interested San Tomas parents.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

IT IS TOO EARLY yet for most of us to have recovered completely from the state of shock that we have been in since Jim Duffield's announcement that he has accepted the position of manager of the Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce.

In the two years that Jim has been manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, he has instilled new life into the local C. of C. and that organization has moved ahead under his direction.

"We truly have a chamber on the GO", is the way "Big Tiger" Duffield termed it in his letter of resignation.

Selfishly, of course, we wish it were possible for Jim to stay on in Campbell, for this community's loss will be Desert Hot Springs gain.

And we are sure that high desert city knows it, for the offer to Jim was mighty attractive from a monetary point of view.

BUT THOSE of us who have been close to Jim for some time have been aware that he was quite concerned healthwise for both himself and his wife.

The desert area climatically offered both him and his grand wife, Eva, something that dollars and cents alone cannot buy and, unfortunately not available in the otherwise superb Santa Clara Valley.

His loss to the community will be keenly felt by all. Yet those of us who have worked closely with him and admire him tremendously both as an individual and as a "pro" in his field, reluctantly but sincerely bid him Godspeed when he leaves "his town" of Campbell.

But Desert Hot Springs, too, will soon become "his town" and will become a better place in which to live and work because of his presence.

Before Jim leaves (after July 1) we know that there will be many of you who will want to show their appreciation of the "Big Tiger" and his achievements.

But we wanted to get into the act first by reporting a few of our own personal sentiments about a guy we consider it a privilege to know.

That's one of the fringe benefits of running a newspaper.

AND, believe us, there are plenty of times when we need those "fringes".

REPORTS HAVE been circulated around town by a number of our friends, to use the term loosely, maligning our ability to drive a boat.

We concede that there may be some basis for these reports, because recently we had the privilege of scooting around Calero behind the wheel of a boat for the first time.

Admittedly there were a number of things that Bob Stephens, who owns the boat, hadn't checked us out on before we took the wheel.

But even the characters, to wit, Dick Hardy Harry Lind and Jim

FLAG DAY JUNE 14

FLY IT

Editorial

Involvment vs. apathy

Campbell city councilmen are faced with a grave responsibility, as they began a series of budget study sessions and attempt to come up with an answer to the fiscal problems of this city.

The councilmen must work out a practical solution to the problem of making the anticipated income meet the projected outgo as far as the operational costs of the city are concerned. And they also must decide how far the city should go in the capital improvement projects for the next six years.

One of the most important sessions affecting this city's future as far as the capital improvement projects are concerned will take place at the city hall tonight (Wednesday) when the proposed future projects of the city will play the leading role.

Members of the two permanent advisory commissions (planning and parks and recreation) as well as the Citizens Advisory Committee have been invited by the City Council to attend and participate in the discussions as well as the general public, of course.

The spotlight will be on the recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Committee submitted to the City Council after a six-weeks intensive study by this citizens group.

Don Hebard, general chairman of the citizens committee, is scheduled to explain the the recommendation in detail to the council and commission members.

The Citizens Advisory Committee has recommended eight projects be placed on the ballot in a bond issue next October totalling $3,113,000.

Prior to the listing of the projects on a priority basis, the finance sub-committee had suggested that a $3.2 million bond issue was practical and could be financed by a 40-cent tax over a period of 25 years.

We suggest that those of you who are interested in your city's future, and that should include all of you who live or work here, will find tonight's meeting extremely rewarding.

It is also expected tonight that the city staff will make a recommendation as a supplement to the citizens report and, obviously, members of the city council and planning commission who adopted the capital improvement program that was studied by the citizens will have ideas on the subject.

The Campbell Press recognizes that there can be modifications made in the citizens' recommendation based on information that the city administration may have available.

Most of us are well aware that there can be variations in the estimated costs for the projects as presented by the citizens groups.

In some instances, for example, there may have been factors overlooked, such as "incidental" costs for furnishings in the building projects that have been recommended.

Yet as a close observer of the scene, we feel confident that the package submitted by the dedicated group of citizens, representing a cross-section of community life as well as all areas of the city, meets almost any criteria that could be set up for a capital improvement bond issue.

We therefore, suggest that any changes made by the city administration should be held to the minimum.

As has been noted, members of the Citizens Advisory Committee by an overwhelming vote indicated that they would be willing to work toward "selling" their recommendation to the electorate in the bond vote.

Thus, a big step then has already been taken toward achieving the city's immediate objectives. A nucleus of dedicated citizens is already available to begin the task of convincing the voters that the bond issue is necessary.

And the "convincing" quite naturally will be made much easier, if the package is the one that the citizens themselves have suggested.

Quite obviously The Campbell Press has definite ideas as to what pattern this city should follow in building a better city.

And our ideas on the subject may not, necessarily, be the same as suggested by the Citizens Advisory Committee.

The listing of the priorities, for example, might have been in a different order, if The Press had been making the recommendation.

But The Press has been willing to accept the recommendation of the dedicated group of citizens who made up the advisory committee who submitted it only after weeks of intensive study.

We feel very strongly that this "grass roots" proposal is one of the most progressive ever taken in this community.

The citizens were asked to become involved in the activities affecting their city's future. And they responded in a magnificent fashion.

Many of us have been discouraged in the past by what has been termed the "apathy of the citizenry".

Those of us who saw these citizens collectively roll up their sleeves and go to work on their city's future, will have to agree that there was no "apathy" about them.

It was an outstanding example of "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe Citizen" getting involved in problems that too often in the past have been passed onto city hall.

Therefore, we think it is imperative that their efforts be recognized for their true value to the overall picture. All of us will be the beneficiaries.

When involvement comes, apathy goes.

Duffield, who have circulated the malicious stories about our boat-driving prowess, must admit that we handled the boat well out in the middle of the lake.

It was only when it came to parking the job that we had a little trouble.

Shucks, nobody told us the boat didn't have a foot-brake until after we had practically pushed our foot through the floor-board searching for one.

And also for the record, Bob, it was Hardy who pushed down on the throttle that almost caused you to be thrown overboard from your own boat.

By the way, will someone please tell us how DO you stop such boats?

Our "helpers" were laughing so hard because of our futile efforts to find the foot-brake, they didn't get around to telling us.

AS WE HAVE reported before in this column, we are an avid reader of the little tidbits that Father John Lally tucks into the St. Lucy's bulletin concerning the progress of new beautiful new St. Lucy's Church that may be completed in the summer.

Under the heading "Winchester Cathedral", these progress reports in capsule form about little known facts about the magnificent new edifice have proved very interesting.

One item referred to the beautiful stained glass windows that are 30-feet wide and 18-feet high made of one-inch thick glass.

And the good Father noted that baseballs, footballs, stones etc., cannot break the windows.

We think Father Lally must be banking a little bit on Providence on that score, as well as the thick glass.

-0-

ANOTHER RECENT item described the "mosaic reredos" which stand 22-feet high directly behind the altar and are made from Venetian glass which surrounds an 11-foot figure of the risen Christ executed in true Byzantine mosaic.

It also noted that directly in front of the entrance will be a 5'6" statue of St. Lucy, the patron saint of the parish, carved in marble in Carrara, Italy.

As we have remarked before, "Winchester Cathedral" in England is centuries old, and is visited by thousands of tourists annually.

In recent months, however, "Winchester Cathedral" has received notoriety of a different sort that really has no historical significance, other than being the title of a catchy tune.

We don't know which of the two, however, that Father Lally and his gang plagiarized.

But it was apropros, for St. Lucy's on Winchester especially after this most recent item that appeared under 'Winchester Cathedral" in the bulletin!!

"Our present bell system will be increased so that it is capable of playing every kind of chime music. St. Lucy's will now have the bell ringing capacity of some of the nation's and the world's famous cathedrals."

We just had an idea. But maybe we had better forget it.

After all the way Rudy Vallee sings "Winchester Cathedral" really couldn't be classified as "chime music."

City Council asks planners to restudy Dot-Campbell plan

Campbell councilmen by an unanimous vote Monday night referred an appeal from a Planning Commission denial for a proposed development at Dot and Campbell avenues back to the commission for further study.

A group of six property owners in the Campbell-Dot area, represented by Jack Dawson, local attorney, had requested approval of a zone change for the area from its present R-1 (single family residence) to P-D (planned development.)

The proposal calls for a service station to be built on the two lots that face Campbell Ave. and a town house complex on the four southerly lots. The commissioners denied the request, suggesting that the area was now being studied under the "701" program and that a better use might be found. They indicated also that past experience had shown that when a service station was included in a P-D plan, it would be built first and the other phases would lag far behind.

In his presentation, Dawson pointed out that the area was now substandard and the narrow but deep lots limited the development.

He explained that the six property owners involved felt that the proposal was the best for the area and had mutually agreed, although without any firm contract, to submit the development program.

In referring the matter back to the Planning Commission, the councilmen indicated that perhaps it could be possible to adopt the plan for the four southerly lots and make a further study of the two Campbell Ave. lots to see if a better use could be found for them than a service station.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions, the City Council gave first reading to a new ordinance that would limit one pool table per bar and directed staff to eliminate any conflicts this new ordinance might have with other city restrictions.

Passed also was the annexation ordinance bringing the area now occupied by the Winchester Drive-in Theater into the city.

But the councilmen and City Attorney Joe Bonacina expressed concern over the failure of the drive-in theater people to complete their end of the agreement that had been adopted during the long drawn out hassle on the theater problem.

They were especially concerned over the trees that were to be planted, the fence that was to be built and the storm drainage system that was to be installed.

PROBLEMS

Councilman Charles Rose also reported that the traffic conditions created by the drive-in theater were as bad as had been anticipated and suggested that the council ask the county supervisors who were responsible in the first place to assist in improving this condition.

Mayor Ed Rogers appointed Rose to obtain a factual report on the situation before submitting it to the supervisors. Although some councilmen felt that such a report would be a "useless gesture", it was maintained that at least it would be "on least it would be "on the record".

In another action, the council approved the allocation of $5000 for the purchase of land of the Herbert C. Gardner property on Winchester needed for the widening of the street. A Sunland Oil Co. station had been located on the property.

The council also approved the countywide concept for development of bike trails throughout the county on a coordinated manner with the various cities cooperating with the county.

Jaycees push flag project for Campbell

Apropos of Flag Day, which is today, June 14, members of the Campbell Jaycees were attempting to wrap up their flag project for the business district of Campbell.

However, latest reports indicated that the Jaycees would not be able to have flags flying in Campbell until the "Fourth of July".

Under the Jaycees proposal, business houses in Campbell by paying $15 for the first year would be able to have a flag flying in front of their establishments on certain designated holidays throughout the year.

For the fee, the Jaycees would drill the needed hole in the sidewalk for the standard and furnish the flags. The Jaycees would store the flags and then put them in place on the various holidays during the year.

This will mark the first time in the recent history of the town that a concerted effort has been made to fly flags in Campbell on the holidays.

HEARINGS

On Monday night the preliminary budget, including both operational and capital improvement phases for the next fiscal year, was submitted by City Manager Bob Stephens.

The Council took no action at Monday's public hearing when the budget was submitted but set up a series of budget sessions for the remainder of the month (including tonight's meeting) when they will attempt to resolve the proper fiscal position for the city for the next year.

The final budget for the city is tentatively scheduled to be adopted at the City Council meeting on Monday, June 26.

The councilman have their work cut out for them.

BUDGET DEFICIT

The budget, as submitted by Stephens, shows that the city must "find" $53,000 before the end of August, if the city can hope to hold the present $1.27 tax rate.

Stephens, in his budget message, specified that the preliminary budget makes no provision for additional personnel and that he has already slashed the requests of the departments.

Councilmen have indicated that they want to hold the tax line, as they have done in the past years. But they also recognize that depleted reserves will place the city in a poor position.

The councilmen on Monday scheduled a budget session for Saturday, June 17, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the council chambers. They will meet again on Monday, June 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the corporation yard office and on Wednesday, June 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers.

Depending on how far they have progressed with their blue pencils, other budget sessions will be called before the deadline on Monday, June 26.

Housewife has highest average at WV College

A 32 year-old housewife with a yen for learning is the class valedictorian at graduation ceremonies Friday, June 16 at 8 p.m. at West Valley College.

She is Mrs. Carol Joyce Berge, 4082 Freed Ave., San Jose mother of seven-year old Jamie, and possessor of a 3.94 grade point average--highest in the three-year history of West Valley College.

She has received straight "A" grades in all of her subjects save one, a political science course "I got a measly B-plus" she said sadly.

She is majoring in American Literature and Sociology, and plans to go to San Jose State College in the Fall to continue work toward her bachelor's degree.

Her husband is with the stockbroking firm of McDonnell & Co. in Town and Country Village, San Jose.

The subject of her brief remarks at the commencement exercises is, appropriately enough, "Against All Odds", referring to the difficulties being surmounted by the college in "the sorry situation of trying to conduct an academic program in a broken-down grammar school." She could also use the title for her own accomplishments, college officials believe.

She found West Valley College faculty members particularly stimulating, she said, "because of the academic freedom on the campus--there is no atmosphere of 'publish or perish' as there is on some big university campuses, which may have classrooms with wall-to-wall carpeting.

She decided to go back to school, she said, after putting her husband through the University of Southern California and three years of divinity school, getting him ordained as a minister, and "having a baby.

"I stayed with Jamie until he was ready to go to kindergarten, then I decided it was time for me to go back to college--and I've enjoyed every minute of it, so far," she said.

Mrs. Victor Beauzay, Auxiliary president and buyer for the shop, is excitedly displaying a variety of souffle dishes, mousse pots, tureens, escargot dishes, fish steamers, copper pots, ice cream molds, spices, and many more gourmet items. The shop will be manned by Auxiliary members.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS--Mrs. Kathleen McGaw, R.N., coronary care unit supervisor at Campbell Community Hospital, explains to members of the Women's Service Club of Campbell how the unit works, after the club had donated a check towards its $7,000 cost. Looking on are members Mrs. Lawrence Quinsland, Mrs. Everett Frye and Mrs. E. R. Miller.

Fund for hospital coronary care unit nears its goal

Over $5,000 of the $7,000 needed to pay for the first unit of the coronary care monitoring system being installed at non-profit Campbell Community Hospital has now come in, Administrator E.E. Admire has reported.

Latest contribution came from the Women's Service Club of Campbell, Admire said, adding to funds previously received from Lockheed's "Buck of the Month" Club, proceeds from the first annual Campbell Community Hospital Golf Tournament sponsored by Villa Felice, from the hospital's own medical staff, from anonymous donors, and in small contributions from a wide segment of the community.

The $7,000 figure will pay for the unit now in operation at the hospital, and once this amount has been collected, funds will be sought for a second supplemental unit, which will then provide a four-bed monitoring system for patients with serious heart conditions, Admire said.

Campbell Crier

by DAVE TURNER

Seniors are getting their last fleeting tastes of Campbell High School as graduation approaches ever nearer. Most of this week is spent in preparing for and taking final exams, cleaning up textbooks, and practicing for the graduation ceremonies on the football field. As the seniors file out to the field each day leaving the underclassmen behind them to toil away in the classrooms, the juniors look on with envy and think, "Next year it will be our turn," and sophomores and freshmen still wonder, "What's it all about?"

The class of 1967 will be graduated in formal ceremonies this Friday, June 16th, at 5 p.m. on the Campbell football field. Student speakers, Marcia Weber and George Taniguchi have been working long hard hours on the addresses they will deliver at the commencement exercises. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, Principal Robert M. Culp will present the traditional Principal's Cups to the two students, boy and girl, who have contributed the most to Campbell in the past four years.

Important decisions were made last week as the class of '67 issued a list of the gifts it would leave to the school. First on the list was a copying machine for the library. Following the purchase of this and in the event that funds are available, the class donated a traditional gift of $25 to the incoming class of '71, a one year subscription to Pace Magazine to the library, and any remaining funds to the library to purchase books, the selection thereof to be left to the discretion of the librarians.

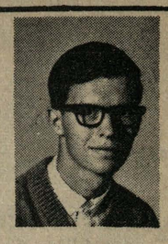
Warrior World



by RUSS LONG

Making the four year grind of high school worthwhile, over 400 seniors will join together for the last time Friday at 6 p.m. as Westmont High School presents Commencement exercises for the Class of 1967.

Entering to the traditional "Pomp & Circumstance" the seniors will be led in the flag salute by Fall Class President Bob Swisher. Spring President Mark Jansen will welcome the seniors and their guests, and Shannon Ceccarelli and Scott Porter will speak on the theme, "The Past is the Beginning."

A number by the band and choir combined will preceed the announcing of local scholarship winners and awards for academic distinction.

Presenting the diplomas will be principal C. Warren Conrad.

Following the presentation of diplomas, the recessional will leave the plaza empty, waiting solemnly for the Class of 1968.

Starting at 10 p.m. the seniors will again meet for the last time at the All-Night Party at the school.

There will be dancing to the music of the Baja Brass Band from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., more dancing with the aid of a KLIV Disc Jockey, continuous showing of the movie "Shenandoah", swimming, volleyball and enough food to fill anybody served all night long.

The All-Night Party is put on by the senior's parents, and the school supplies only the facilities. Lots of effort has gone into the preparation, and the parents are to be thanked.

And so the school year 1966-67 comes to a close, and with it comes the termination of this columnist's edition of Warrior World. So, for seniors who want to remember, here are highlights of their Senior year at Westmont High School.

Remember the first dance, where it was so crowded you could hardly move...that superior feeling you had because you didn't have to share a locker with someone else...the foreign exchange students, Anders "Andy" Framme and Ingo Fiedler...People dance...the Senior Play, the "Tea House of the August Moon"...Football Queen Sue Robinson and her Princesses Fran Lewis and Lizanne Withlow...struggling through the SAT tests...and the "Mod" Christmas dance.

Remember beating Blackford in basketball and breaking their 45 game win streak...Pep Club's troll doll sale...19 straight wins for the wrestling team..."Somewhere My Love," the Senior Ball at Los Altos Hills Country Club..."Listen In" at the Pops Concert...the flag girls winning the state championship for the second year in a row...Pajama Game, Westmont's first musical...Senior Dress Down Day...the Junior Prom "Camelot"...Senior Sneak Day...the CSF trip to the city...STOF Day...the beautifully covered yearbooks...Baccalaureate...graduation practice...and graduation.

Remember the year 1966-1967.

Commission gets plans for "new" service station

Two matters affecting the same service station proposed at 337 E. Hamilton (at Central) will be on the agenda of the Planning Commission next Monday, June 19.

The service station involved, however, is not exactly "new".

Union Oil is asking for a use permit to allow a station at that corner to replace the one that had been removed several months ago by the oil company. At the same meeting, plans for the new station have been submitted for approval.

In another item on the agenda, F.M. Santos and R.W. Montanari are asking approval of a use permit to allow a day care nursery school to be constructed and operated at 1063 Fewtrell Drive, approximately 65-feet off Bascom.

Recent approval by the commission has been given for a Der Wienerschnitzel drive-through restaurant and a Taco Bell on the front portions of the property.

Properties east of the proposed nursery school are zoned for single-family dwellings but on the west and south C-2-S.

Up for approval also are plans for three four-unit apartment houses on Adler, Nello and Echo avenues submitted by Ray Kanawyer and plans for an office and warehouse at 190 Dillon Ave. submitted by Medallion Paint Service continued from a previous meeting.

Also continued from a previous meeting was action on the use permit of Quattuor Investments requesting four pool tables in conjunction with a restaurant/bar to be constructed at West Hacienda near Winchester.

The matter had been continued because of possible conflicts arising between two ordinances regulating such operations within the city limits.

Trustees invite students to visit meetings

Campbell Union Elementary School District board of trustees inaugurated a program of student visitation at their biweekly meeting last Thursday.

Student leaders from five upper grade schools were invited in addition to former elementary students who are now high school seniors.

Five students attended the initial meeting of this new program, and they were welcomed by Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, board president.

Steve Welker and Mike Ford were present from Blackford Elementary School; Tim McCauley from Campbell Elementary; Debbie Graff from Blackford High School; and George Taniguchi attended from Campbell High School.

These student leaders commented briefly on their past years in Campbell elementary schools and made several recommendations to the board members.

Steve Welker, of Blackford elementary, summed up the theme of the evening when he suggested that a student United Nations might well be organized by the students of the five upper grade schools in the Campbell District.

Board members assured the visiting students that their ideas would be used in future plans for schools. It is planned that this student visitor program will be expanded during the coming school year.

Cal, Santa Cruz chief to speak at graduation

DR. DEAN McHENRY
--speaker

Dr. Dean E. McHenry, chancellor of the University of California at Santa Cruz, will be the principal speaker at Commencement Exercises at West Valley College, at 8 p.m. June 16.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, said he has received confirmation from Chancellor McHenry, whose topic will be "The College and the Community."

So far, Dr. Hall said, there are 272 applicants for graduation from the two-year community college, with actual graduates to be determined by final grades.

This compares to 100 graduates last year, Dr. Hall said, and gives indication of the growing role West Valley College plays in the area it serves.

McHenry, who is 57, was born on a farm near Lompos, California, is married, has four children and four grandchildren.

He graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles with an AB degree in 1932, received his MA from Stanford University the following year, and his Ph.D from Berkeley in 1936. He holds an honorary doctor of literature degree from the University of Western Australia.

College breaks ground June 22

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the first building to be constructed on the permanent Saratoga campus of West Valley College are set for 10 a.m. Thursday, June 22, on the campus site at Fruitvale and Allendale Avenues.

The general public is invited to the historic ceremony, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president. Special guests will include mayors of all the cities in the college district, superintendents of high school and unified school districts, principals of high schools, the retiring and incoming County superintendents of schools, civic leaders, and representatives of the press and media.

Plans call for a simple, dignified and short ceremony, Dr. Hall said, including the pledge of allegiance, welcoming remarks, invocation, introductions of guests, remarks by the Board chairman, Robert W. Brydon, and the actual ground-breaking ceremony, participated in by officials of the various cities, school districts and board members.

The ceremonies will be held on the site near Gardner Lane.

Ceremonies follow the awarding of the bid for construction of the building to the J.C. Barnhart Construction Co. of Santa Clara, and immediate beginning of work on the 143-acre site for construction of the Engineering-Technology Building.

1 YEAR AGO

Campbell last week joined a number of other cities in officially protesting a regulation of the U. S. Post Office Department that prevents the extension of door delivery of mail to any new subdivision.

Civic leaders and educators joined together on Tuesday at 4 p.m. to pay their last respects to a fellow worker, Dr. E. Thomas Perry, 53, who died suddenly late Saturday night. He was stricken while attending a West Valley College dance held in Boulder Creek.

Campbell's preliminary city budget for the next fiscal year totaling $1,585,407, prepared and presented by City Manager Bob Stephens, goes under the careful scrutiny of the City Council beginning next week when special budget sessions are scheduled. The preliminary budget is $77,258 lower than last year's.

5 YEARS AGO

Residents of Campbell will be interviewed soon as part of a nation-wide survey of the activities of American families. The study is being conducted by the National Opinion Research Center (NORO), a nonprofit non-commercial research agency affiliated with the University of Chicago.

Three students from Campbell have been placed on the honors list for outstanding scholarship at San Jose State College. Students winning recognition were Judith A. Remley, a general elementary major, Jennifer A. Jones, an English major, and William A. Lundberg, an art major.

In September, 1962, the high school population of the southeast section of the Campbell Union High School District will be divided about evenly between Camden High School and the new Leigh High School.

10 YEARS AGO

That a building spurt was definitely under way in Campbell was indicated this week with the report by the city building inspector's office that permits valued at $529,612 had been issued during May.

A child welfare center is to be located on the outskirts of Campbell if present plans are carried out. Santa Clara County Planning Commission Wednesday voted its intention to issue a use permit for Eastfield (formerly called Home of Benevolence) to establish its facilities on a five acre site at the corner of Latimer and Llewellyn Avenues in Campbell, but outside the city limits.

The assembly has approved and sent to the senate a bill making it illegal to send unsigned letters to newspapers or magazines seeking the defeat of political candidates.

15 YEARS AGO

City Council Monday night adopted a resolution appointing William Enochs auditor for the city and appointed Volunteer Fire Chief Jack Scott Campbell fire chief.

Campbell Press endorsed candidates Paul W. Crawford, Albert B. Smith and David C. Kirby, while not receiving the high votes in the countywide poll, swept the voting in local Campbell, San Tomas and Moorpark precincts.

Moreland School District Board of trustees will ask for a 60 cent tax rate increase June 12 to cover the cost of new classrooms and more teachers.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Winston Churchill once described Russia as a "riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma"--words which could now be used to describe American foreign policy.

The folly of this country trying to be all things to all people through proliferated foreign aid program has exploded in our faces in the Middle East where both sides in a war which might be the beginning of World War III are fighting with weapons furnished by the United States.

Egyptian President Nasser, reaching a pinnacle of hypocrisy, charged the United States with aiding Israel when he knew that the Arabs have received more than the Israelis.

The WASHINGTON EVENING STAR stated on June 5 that the United States has supplied at least $345.9 million in military aid to ten of the Arab countries backing Egypt in its showdown with Israel. U. S. State Department figures, which do not include millions of dollars of U. S. military equipment purchased by Arab nations outside the military assistance program, show total assistance of about $300 million to the Arab nations in twenty years, as opposed to $27.6 million to Israel. For the same period Arab states received almost $3.5 billion in economic aid as compared to slightly over $1 billion to Israel. Even the bread Nasser eats today was probably furnished him by the United States which has provided about one-third of all cereals consumed in Egypt.

Many of the Arab nations have received military aid and equipment at U. S. taxpayers' expense and hundreds of Arab officers have been trained by the United States. Last year alone we trained 40 officers for Iraq, 33 for Jordan, and 616 for Lebanon.

Some of the elaborate and plush Arab embassies in Washington have been built with U. S. dollars. Yet ironically Nasser agitates unruly mobs to destroy U. S. embassies and consulates in in the Middle East.

Something is wrong with a foreign policy which hands out military assistance in such a wholesale manner. Even the Arabs could not understand why we continued until very recently to aid President Nasser in the face of his explicitly stated hostility. They were doubly perplexed at our continued aid when it was common knowledge that since 1955 Moscow had contributed more than $2 billion in military aid to the UAR, Syria, Iraq and Yemen.

It was common knowledge that Soviet personnel engaged in military assistance programs in the Middle East increased by more than 300% since 1960, that 2,000 military technicians served the area and that 2,500 military technicians from the Arab Near East are being trained in the USSR today.

The Middle East has long been recognized as a powder keg and to feed fuel to both sides of a flame which would inevitably reach that keg, is the height of folly.

I cannot support such an ill-advised foreign aid program. For a long time, I have advocated giving aid to fewer countries and only to those who truly believe in freedom, and who demonstrate a desire for peace. Until such time as we adopt a new policy, I must continue voting against foreign aid.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15
TROOP 704

The busy Bucknall Junior Scouts, Troop 704, have been at it again! They made good use of the Memorial weekend and had a two-night overnight at Uvas Canyon. The trip was girl planned all the way and paid for completely from the troop dues. A total of 26 Junior Scouts attended. Ray Webster and Barry Hollenbeck took 14 of the girls who had previously earned their "camper badge" and laid trail markers for the rest of the troop to follow on one of their hikes. Ann Webster, Cadette Scout Troop 55, and Linda Dyer very capably did all the cooking for the adults. The troop leaders are Mrs. Ray Webster and Mrs. Barry Hollenbeck.

On June 1, the Bucknall Jr.'s had a Mother-Daughter Barbecue and Court of Awards to round out their scouting activities for the year. Mrs. James St. Germaine, Cadette leader Troop 55, was their "special guest" and spoke to the 6th grade girls and their mothers about the Cadette level of scouting--its many benefits, challenges and wonderful new opportunities for the girls.

"It was a frame"--the Brownies went bowling! Everything was in readiness for the girls of Brownie Troop 824, Hazelwood School, when they arrived at Cambrian Bowl recently. The bowling alley graciously lent the girls use of shoes and had special light weight balls for them. The girls bowled in league style with coaching by troop mothers Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Ed. Phillips and her daughter, Tina. Mrs. Baker Cleveland and Mrs. Thomas Reddick, leaders of the troop, were present to help with the scoring and photographing of the event. Refreshments followed.

Girls participating were: Charla Kelley, Joan Baheri, Dana Ingram, Gabrielle Reddick, Janet Phillips, Debbie Capodiece, Nancy Gaddis, Kathy Walker, Diana Thomas, Cathy Gray, Melinda Cleveland, Penny Hess, Eileen McGuire and two future Brownie scouts, Pam Phillips and Cindee Cleveland. The Troop plans to continue through the summer on a bi-weekly basis with activities completely girl planned.

Day Camp Time is almost here! Harriet Clapes, director of the June 19-23 session at Vasona, and her staff are making their final plans and it looks to be a great adventure for the Brownies and Junior Scouts attending.
